Chasing The Sun

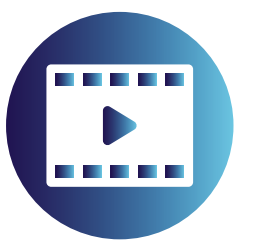

Ayazın Sonu Güneş

Gunes is a young woman who has just graduated from university and is about to go to London for her ideals. She is forced to give up all her dreams when her brother is imprisoned as a result of slander. Vowing to save her brother, Gunes infiltrates the life of Ayaz, who she thinks is the cause of this situation. Ayaz is unaware that he will pay with love for the big mistake he caused while trying to protect the conglomerate he inherited. While Ayaz, who has lived behind emotional walls for years, breaks them down with Gunes, she cannot avoid being caught between her feelings and revenge. Their journey is woven with secrets, where love becomes both salvation and captivity.

Farah

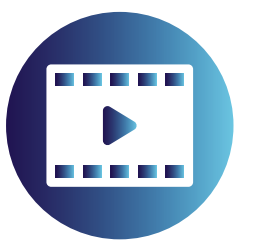

Adım Farah

Farah tells the story of an Iranian woman who had to flee her country and is struggling to survive in Istanbul, working as a cleaning lady to fund her son's medical treatment. Farah was one of the brightest students at one of Iran's leading medical schools until months before she had to flee. But she and her entire family paid a ruthless price for a man's failure to reciprocate her love, and Farah fled to Turkey, unaware that she was pregnant with a boy. Seven years later, this once-promising woman is forced to work as a cleaning lady to provide for herself and her son. Farah's son, Kerim, has a disease called "balloon boy disease." He spends most of his time at home in a sterile, germ-free room because his innate immune system is extremely weak. He can only go outside in his special suit for an hour or two once a week. It only takes a moment of Farah's carelessness for Kerim's health to suddenly deteriorate. One night, while cleaning, Farah witnesses a mafia murder. She begs the hitman, Tahir, to let her go, promising to keep her mouth shut and offering to clean the murder scene. That's what she does best, and to escape death, she cleans the crime scene without leaving a trace. The following day, Farah discovers that the victim of the crime was a policeman—a dear friend of her neighbor, Gonul, and her brother, Chief Inspector Mehmet. Farah decides to testify and goes to the police station, where she encounters Tahir, who has been detained by Mehmet. Leaving the station immediately, Farah decides to leave the country; however, fate has other plans, and she suddenly finds herself at a hospital. While she tries to get away, a critically injured man is brought to the E.R. Farah intervenes to save him, unaware that the man she is trying to rescue is the leader of the mafia and Tahir's boss—Ali Galip. This instinctive act places her at the center of a mafia-police war and an unpredictable love story with her pursuer, Tahir, during the first season. Together with Farah's son, Kerim, the three of them form a family against all odds. But the love between Farah and Tahir will be tested even more in the second season when Behnam, Kerim's father—who was presumed dead—arrives in Istanbul to reclaim his so-called "family."

Chains Of Fate

Dilek Taşı

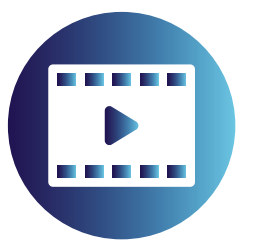

Mustafa, a man in his early thirties, struggles to make ends meet with his wife Canan and their young daughter Cemre in the slums of Istanbul. When Canan's illness reaches a critical stage and immediate surgery becomes her only chance of survival, Mustafa is left desperate. His factory has been shut down for months due to a lockout, and his long-overdue wages remain unpaid.

A man of dignity who has never bowed to anyone, Mustafa now finds himself forced to set aside his pride. To save his wife, he resolves to confront the factory owner, Yakup Bey, and demand the wages he is rightfully owed. But what begins as a desperate attempt to keep his family alive will spiral into a day that changes the lives of Mustafa and his daughter Cemre forever.

Flames of Love

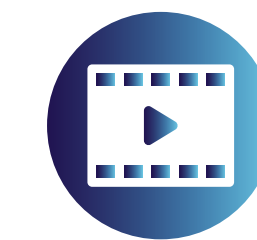

Zümrüdüanka

Phoenix tells the story of an impossible love between Zümrüt, the most beautiful daughter of the struggling Kuloğlu family in a Nevşehir shantytown, and Serhat, the beloved son of the powerful Demirkan dynasty. After her father was crippled in the salt mines, Zümrüt had to shoulder the family's burden, working in the same mines. Her beauty secretly captured the heart of Adil Demirkan, her wealthy employer. Too fearful of rejection, Adil never revealed his feelings—until Zümrüt's ambitious mother Ülfet, desperate to escape poverty, urged him to act. Defying his family's disapproval, Adil finally proposed marriage, and a wedding was arranged. But on the wedding night, everything was shattered. Serhat Demirkan, long believed to be a fallen soldier and mourned for years by both his family and Zümrüt, suddenly returned alive. His reappearance threw Zümrüt into turmoil—caught between Adil's determination, her mother's relentless ambition, the Demirkan family's fierce opposition, and the love of her life, Serhat.

EGO

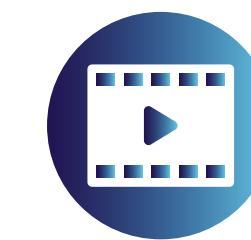

EGO

The Koraslan Family is one of the most well-known families in the tourism industry in Turkey. Sibel is the second child of the family and is in charge of finance at the company, while her older brother Tuncay is the Marketing Manager. On the other hand, the Ozturks are a middle-class family: Burhan, the father, who lost his beloved wife two years ago; his daughter Elif, who works as a kindergarten teacher; and Arda, who quit university and now works as a delivery boy. Elif is engaged to Erhan, a straightforward and brave man who works in the finance department at the Koraslan family's firm. Burhan loves Erhan as if he were his own son and relies heavily on him. When Erhan asks for money to invest in the stock market, Burhan mortgages his house in exchange for a huge loan. Things take a turn for the worse, and Erhan loses all the money. The Ozturk family could lose their house unless Erhan manages to resolve the situation. Meanwhile, Sibel, who was unexpectedly abandoned by the man she fell in love with for the first time in her life, suddenly learns that she has a cyst in her womb, and if she doesn't conceive soon, she will not be able to bear children. She decides to get pregnant by a man who is handsome, confident, possessive, and brave. Despite being engaged to Elif, Sibel chooses Erhan to be the father of her future child. Sibel makes a proposition to them—Erhan is to spend three days with her in a hotel room. He accepts. Even though Erhan has done nothing to be ashamed of during those three nights, Elif can't forgive him for accepting Sibel's offer and expects him to resign after the indecent incident. Contrary to her expectations, Sibel promotes Erhan, and they start working more closely together. Elif loses her trust in Erhan. Moreover, Elif loses her job. While she is trying to cope with the pain and betrayal, she meets Tuncay Koraslan, who has an illegitimate son, Berkay. She soon moves into the Koraslan's house to work as a babysitter for Berkay. Despite being unable to forget Erhan, she can't resist Tuncay's attention. On the other hand, Tuncay is married to Begüm, who is oblivious to everything. Meanwhile, Erhan starts to get closer to Sibel, and eventually, they walk down the aisle together. But the marriage is overshadowed by Elif's unexpected pregnancy news. Erhan once again finds himself in a predicament. He must decide whether to stay with the woman he loves or be a father to his future child.

Lawless Love

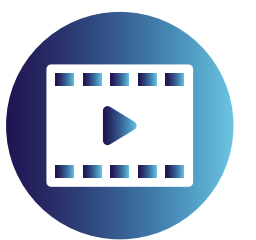

Kanunsuz Topraklar

1940, Zonguldak, Turkey... Everyone in town makes a living by working at the coal mine that belongs to the richest man in town, Malik—a vile and unscrupulous man. In addition to the mine, he also owns most of the agricultural fields in town, meaning that the people living on these lands are practically his tenants. Malik doesn't ask them for rent, but they pay more than enough by working for peanuts at the mine. Davut is a young man living a modest life with his two brothers, his 6-year-old sister, and his parents. Davut, his brothers, and his father are all miners working at Malik's mine. One day, the mine collapses due to Malik's actions, and nine coal miners, including Davut's father, are killed. Davut is furious and heartbroken. He confronts Malik and shoots him. Malik doesn't die but is heavily injured, and Davut is immediately taken into custody for attempted murder. However, Malik has an unexpected offer for him that will change his destiny and lead him to his endless and lawless love, Gülfem, Malik's daughter.

Yasak Elma

Yıldız and Zeynep are two sisters who are very close but have very different characters and life goals. Zeynep is a girl who strictly adheres to her ethical values, aims to have a successful career, and strives for it; whereas Yıldız believes that she deserves more and considers happiness to be a marriage with a rich man who would save her from her low-income life. Yıldız's life is about to take a new turn when she meets Ender Argun. Yıldız recognizes Ender from the weekly tabloids, envies her and the life she leads, and dreams of becoming the queen of Istanbul just like her. Ender's aim is to divorce her husband, Halit, without losing her position within Istanbul's high-society circle as well as her financial status. She knows she cannot receive a fortune during their divorce, so she comes up with a plan to set him up with a girl and consequently blame him for infidelity, which would get her high compensation in court. The girl she's looking for is none other than Yıldız. However, Yıldız betrays Ender and exposes her plan. When Halit learns the truth, he divorces Ender, leaving her penniless and discredited. After their divorce, Yıldız and Halit get married. This is the beginning of an endless war between Ender and Yıldız, which will continue for six seasons.

Woman

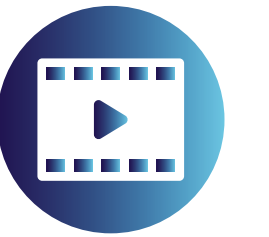

Kadın

This is the survival story of Bahar, a young widow with two children. Abandoned by her mother when she was eight, Bahar later loses her grandparents as well. At a time when she feels all alone, she meets Sarp, with whom she falls madly in love. After several years of happiness, Bahar loses her husband too, and she is left with only two things that keep her holding on to life: her children, Nisan and Doruk. Together, they turn life into a game, poverty into fun, and absence into joy. She believes that when one has a smile on their face, the heart also responds with a smile. But life has much more in store for Bahar. While she is looking for a bone marrow transplant to save her own life, her mother re-enters her life and discovers that the love of her life, her husband Sarp, hasn't died; he is living as Alp Karahan, married to another woman and with twins.

Melody of Love

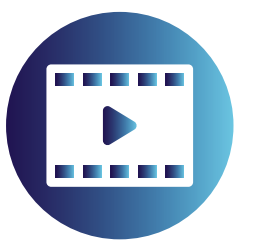

Yaz Şarkısı

Yaz, who came to Istanbul for university, doesn't want to return to her hometown after graduation until she fulfills her father's dreams. To accomplish this, she lies to her mother, Emine, and builds a new life in Istanbul. Although everything appears perfect at first, fate has a way of exposing her lies, which will unravel her life. Her deception not only destroys her own life but also turns the lives of her loved ones upside down. The famous singer Kemal, her platonic love; her best friend and secret lover Murat; and her aunt Fadime, sent with her to Istanbul by her mother to keep an eye on Yaz, become entangled in her web of lies. To save herself from her mother's anger, she introduces Murat as her boyfriend and Kemal as her boss to Emine. However, her web of lies will confuse both minds and hearts at the same time. Kemal, who has no idea about the so-called serious relationship between Yaz and Murat, will begin to fall for Yaz, but it will be hard to convince her of his feelings. Even if he manages to convince her, what will Murat, Yaz's so-called future husband, think about this when Yaz's mother, Emine, likes him too much as a son?

Deeply

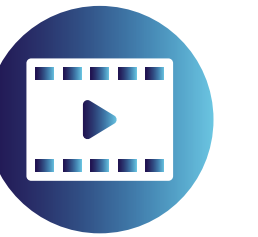

İlk ve Son

Deniz and Barış once shared a passionate love story. Years later, they cross paths again, and memories from their intense past resurface. As they reconnect, they revisit the ups and downs of their relationship, recalling moments of joy and heartache. Every conversation brings old wounds and unresolved emotions back to the surface. The story shifts between past and present, showing how love can be tested by time. Misunderstandings, ambitions, and personal insecurities have played crucial roles in shaping their journey. Although Deniz and Barış have changed over the years, the core of their connection remains strong. As they reflect on the times they shared, they realize how much they themselves have evolved. The story questions whether true love can endure the passage of time and personal transformation. Facing their lingering emotions, they must make a choice: to rekindle their bond or finally part ways with peace. Their journey captures the bittersweet beauty of first and last loves, portraying the complexities of human emotions. "İlk ve Son" is a reflection on the endurance of love, the inevitability of change, and the importance of acceptance. Through Deniz and Barış's emotional reconnection, the story offers a touching exploration of whether love can truly survive beyond time and through personal growth.

Yeşilçam

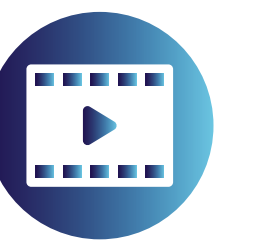

Yeşilçam

Set during the 1960s, in the golden era of Turkish cinema, the story follows a passionate producer who dreams of creating timeless films. Facing fierce competition, political tensions, and personal betrayals, he struggles both financially and emotionally. The story reveals the hardships hidden behind Yeşilçam's glamorous image. Along his journey, the producer forms deep bonds with rising stars, ambitious writers, and dedicated directors, each pursuing their dreams in a rapidly changing society. They are driven by their passion for cinema, yet personal ambitions often clash. As secrets unfold and ambitions collide, surviving in the industry becomes even harder. The narrative paints a nostalgic yet realistic portrait of Yeşilçam's world, where success demands great sacrifices. Behind the shining lights, lives woven with passion, perseverance, and resilience unfold. As the characters strive to bring their dreams to life, they are swept along by the changing tides of time. "Yeşilçam" is a tribute to the magic of cinema, the power of passion, and the unrelenting fight to stay true to one's dreams despite a challenging reality. The story captures both the beauty and the cost of chasing artistic aspirations in an era full of change and uncertainty.

That's My Life

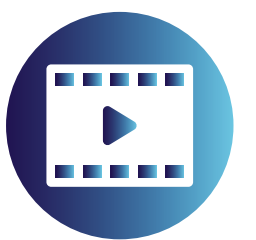

O Hayat Benim

Bahar has a modest existence in Istanbul with her adoptive parents, Nuran and Ilyas, and her horrible, jealous sister, Efsun. Money is so tight that she has to give up school and work in a cake shop. Unbeknownst to her, Bahar is the secret daughter of a rich businessman, Mehmet Emir, and a wealthy young woman who sadly died in childbirth. This woman's father, Bahar's real grandfather, was against the union; he ensured the pregnancy was hidden from Mehmet and gave the baby to his servants to raise. However, he is racked with guilt and plans to tell Mehmet Emir everything—but not before an accident takes his life. Knowing what was about to happen, Nuran and Ilyas hide his body in the garden and set their own wicked plan in motion—they present Efsun as Mehmet's long-lost daughter instead. Will Bahar and Mehmet ever be reunited, and will her adoptive family pay for their duplicity?

No 309

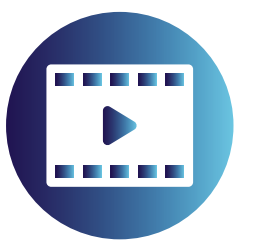

No 309

In a posthumous video, a rich old man speaks to his family, who watches him in tears while secretly wondering who will inherit his fortune. He declares: "My dear grandsons... Erol and Onur... whichever of you gets married and has a child before the other will receive my entire share in the company, which is worth 600 million Turkish Lira..." otherwise known as big money! Desperate to get their hands on the cash, their mothers, Betül and Yıldız, rush to set up blind dates for their sons. Forced by his mother, Onur goes to his blind date, where he meets Lale, who is actually there for her own blind date with a young doctor (also named Onur!). Mistaking each other for their expected dates, they start to chat. As a result of Erol drugging their drinks, Onur and Lale get drunk and have fun all night long, eventually falling asleep in room No. 309 of a hotel. In the morning, unable to remember anything about the crazy night, they part ways, agreeing never to see each other again. However, three months later, Lale discovers she is pregnant. When Onur's grandmother hears the news, she declares that they are obliged to marry. What will this mean for Erol?

In Love Again

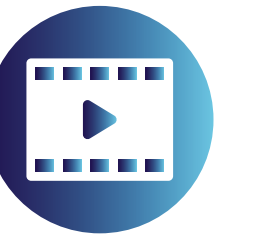

Aşk Yeniden

Fatih and Zeynep, two strangers burdened by complicated personal situations, cross paths during a flight returning to Turkey. Fatih, under immense pressure from his traditional family to settle down, proposes a marriage of convenience. Zeynep, facing her own troubles and in need of protection, agrees to the unusual arrangement. Their fake marriage brings a host of unexpected challenges as they must convince their families, friends, and the world around them that their relationship is real. Pretending to be married forces them into close proximity, making it increasingly difficult to separate the act from genuine emotions. As they navigate through family expectations, social norms, and personal insecurities, a real bond begins to form. Misunderstandings, comedic situations, and heartfelt moments fill their journey as they slowly open up to each other. The line between pretending and reality becomes more blurred with every shared secret and every spontaneous laugh. "Aşk Yeniden" humorously and warmly explores how life's most unpredictable moments can lead to true love. Fatih and Zeynep, initially brought together by necessity, discover that their staged partnership might be the most real relationship they've ever experienced. Through laughter, emotional growth, and surprising twists, they realize that sometimes pretending leads them directly to the happiness they never dared to expect. Their story highlights the magic hidden in life's second chances.

In Another Life

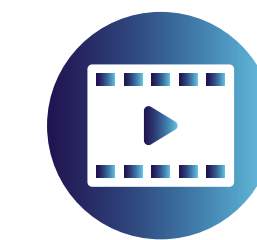

Adı Zehra

Be careful what you wish for: sometimes dreams can turn into a living nightmare! Zehra, 22, was born into a strict Turkish family in Berlin. She was never allowed to go to school and was being forced into an arranged marriage by her parents. Now, pregnant by her sweetheart Kadir, she attempts to elope with him. However, she has dishonored her family and is hunted down by her father and brother, who leave her half-dead on the roadside, with her baby gone. During her recovery in the hospital, she identifies herself with a lookalike missing person—Hande Kurdoğlu—who hasn't been seen for seven years. Hande's mother flies to Berlin to be reunited with her 'long lost daughter,' welcoming her with open arms and quickly taking her 'home' to a mansion in Istanbul. Even when Kadir and her family come to find her in Istanbul, she turns away from them and grows close to Genco, Hande's childhood sweetheart. Meanwhile, in her new life, Zehra begins to suspect that Hande's mother is hiding a terrible secret about what really happened to the real Hande and why she welcomed a total stranger into the family. Zehra is certain about one thing: she must uncover the truth about what happened to the girl whose life she is now living.

Ali Kemal Ateş is a complex, troubled, yet charismatic man who operates under the radar, using covert methods to deliver his own unique brand of justice. Living among Istanbul's elite, he splits his time between his uncompromising work, handling all manner of legal and illegal problems for high-class clients, and his family—his wife Esra, their two teenage children, and his siblings, whom he has cared for his entire life. He's respected as a man who can keep a secret. But no one knows his biggest secret: he's an undercover government agent. Now, he's using all his skills to expose the most ruthless crime lord Istanbul has ever seen—Ekrem Tanöz. An unchecked Ekrem is a danger to the country, and the government's strategy to take him down revolves around one man: Ali Kemal Ateş. It's the most perilous mission of his career, and it becomes infinitely more complicated when he meets and falls in love with Zeynep, an idealistic doctor—and Ekrem's daughter.

My Husband's Family

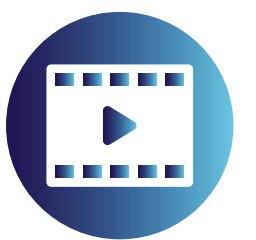

Kocamın Ailesi

The series focuses on Tarık, a young doctor who was adopted and raised in Germany. After moving to Turkey with his wife, Güneş, they settle in an apartment complex where they encounter Mukadder, a traditional matriarch. The plot thickens when it is revealed that Tarık is actually Mukadder's long-lost son, abducted 25 years prior. As Güneş discovers that her seemingly perfect husband belongs to a large, traditional Turkish family, the story unfolds to reveal a mix of heartfelt moments and comedic situations. The show effectively blends themes of family dynamics, romance, and cultural nuances, making it a rich exploration of relationships and heritage.

Dangerous Beauty

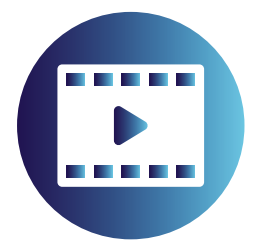

Eve Düſen Yıldırım

The young and beautiful Muazzez loses the last member of her family, her father, Hüsnü. On his deathbed, he asks Ahmet—whom he had broken off contact with many years ago—to take care of his daughter, Muazzez, who will be left all alone after his passing. Ahmet has two sons, Namik and Sait. When he receives the letter from Hüsnü, he sends his elder son, Namik, to bring her back. Muazzez soon moves in, and everyone is thrilled to have her around as she brings joy and energy into their lives. The only person who doesn't like her is Namik's controlling wife, Şayeste, who feels overshadowed and ignored. Sait and Muazzez are the same age and, as a result, spend a lot of time together. He begins to fall in love with her. This makes Namik so jealous that he tries to divert his brother's attention away from her. Dangerous Beauty is the story of an irresistible femme fatale who will come between two brothers, strike them like lightning, and change their lives forever.

The Karadag Family

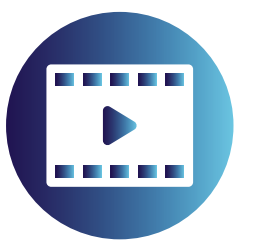

Karadağlar

The Karadağ family is a story centered around a father and his sons, where love, intrigue, and revenge never diminish. Halit Karadağ and his sons live in a village with a significant divide between the wealthy lords and the poor peasants. Halit Karadağ is a vulgar man whose main concerns are making money and seducing young women. He has been married twice and has three sons: Gülali, Kadir, and Selahattin. Halit has no interest in his sons and sends them away to be raised by relatives and friends. His eldest son, Gülali, a drunk and a gambler, is in love with the town's teacher. His son Kadir is religious, naive, and beloved by everyone. He tries to get the dowry money from his half-brother Gülali in order to marry Zuhal. Halit's youngest son, Selahattin, a young lawyer, has just returned to town. His return will change everyone's lives. Then there's Gülhayat—a beautiful and mysterious woman who has returned, ready to do whatever it takes to get revenge on Halit, whom she blames for her father's death.

Man Up

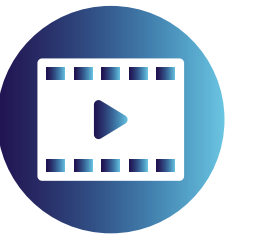

Şevkat Yerimdar

Şevkat lives in an old neighborhood in Istanbul, where he runs an egg shop in the market. The neighborhood is full of colorful personalities, and everyone does everything together, for better or worse, just like in the old days. Mr. Cevdet owns most of the houses and stores in the area. He is a wealthy antique dealer who once lived there with his late wife, and his daughter, Esin, was born there. Cevdet buys properties to preserve the neighborhood's character. He never calls or visits his tenants and never raises the rent, earning him great respect from the community. Cevdet's daughter, Esin, is an artist and a ceramic master. After returning from Paris, she decides to use the house where she was born as a workshop and to open an art gallery in the market. Şevkat lives in the two-story house, and Esin moves into the upper floor while opening her gallery right across from his egg shop. Esin's friends from the art world begin visiting, and the locals start meeting people from a different culture. At the same time, Esin's friends gradually get accustomed to the neighborhood's way of life. In this process, natural confusions arise, impossible situations occur, and surprise love stories blossom. Life in the neighborhood becomes more fun and cheerful.

Double Bliss

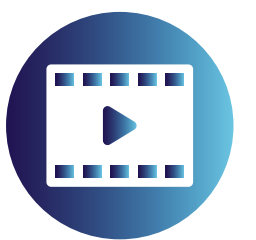

Çifte Saadet

Perihan and Metin, both born and raised in the conservative city of Konya, have shared a deep bond since childhood. Their friendship, full of innocence and warmth, blossomed over time into a strong and loving marriage. Together, they built a beautiful life, raising three children and running a small grocery store side by side. Their happiness seemed simple yet complete. However, fate intervenes when Perihan travels to Bursa to attend a close friend's wedding. Metin, unable to leave their store unattended, stays behind. During her solo journey, tragedy strikes: the bus Perihan is traveling on veers off the road and crashes into a ravine. There are no survivors. Devastated, Metin and the family desperately search for her, clinging to hope, but after days of heartbreaking effort, it becomes clear that Perihan has perished. Her loss leaves an unbearable void, changing Metin's life forever. "Çifte Saadet" is a poignant story about love, loss, and the unforgiving hand of destiny. It explores the fragility of happiness and the suddenness with which life can alter without warning. Through Metin's grief, the narrative touches on the enduring power of love and the silent strength needed to accept the pain of an unwritten future shaped by irreversible loss.

During this time, Ali is required to travel extensively and live far from his family. Despite the distance, Ali falls in love with a girl from his neighborhood named Elif, and a unique and deep bond forms between them. One day, Aslan informs Ali that he is finally ready for his first intelligence operation. This mission comes with one major requirement: everyone must believe that Ali has died, while the real Ali assumes the identity of Polat, a specially constructed persona. To achieve this, he undergoes plastic surgery, altering his appearance beyond recognition. During the operation, Polat saves the life of a minor Mafia boss named Çakır. From that day on, they become inseparable. Valley of the Wolves is a legendary action drama that follows Polat's journey as he dedicates his life to uncovering the deeply hidden truths of the Mafia and defeating the state's secret enemies.

Pars Narco-Terror

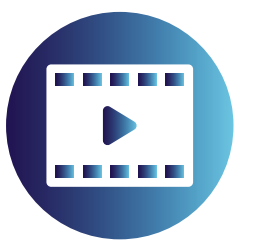

Pars Narkoterör

Anatomy of a Betrayal is a story of dirty money earned from drugs and the love between a Kurdish woman and a Circassian man, despite their different ethnic backgrounds. Istanbul Narcotics Chief Officer Şamil Baturay catches a drug baron on the verge of death during a routine drug operation. Following this, he travels to Van—an eastern province near the Iranian border—for a family visit with his work partner, who is also his fiancée, Züluf. While in Van, Şamil takes part in a drug operation led by his brother, a major in the Turkish Army. During this operation, they capture several terrorists smuggling heroin from Iran into Turkey. The very next day, Şamil's brother is killed by a sniper in an ambush while transporting the seized drugs. Although devastated by his brother's death, Şamil quickly begins investigating the ambush to find those responsible. Back in Istanbul, as he delves deeper into his investigation, he discovers that these two seemingly separate incidents in opposite corners of Turkey might be connected. A new “dust-line” is being established by drug barons, stretching from Istanbul to Iran and from Van to Berlin. Matters become even more complicated when Şamil realizes that his fiancée's family in Van might have ties to this emerging drug network.

Road to Victory

Pusat

Suffering is a blessing on the path to victory. After all, he wants no more involvement in dirty business and to reclaim his status as a legend in the boxing ring. Now, it is time to show how strong he truly is. Young boxer Ali Pusat goes to prison right before his championship fight and serves six years behind bars. During this time, he falls out with his trainer due to a misunderstanding, and his girlfriend, Hediye, breaks up with him. After his release, he sets out to start a new life, correcting the mistakes of his past and striving to become the great boxer he once was. Kont, who organizes illegal fights, wants Ali to compete for him and tries to drag him back into trouble. Ali finds himself torn between the clean life he aspires to lead and the dark path filled with tempting offers that are hard to refuse. With the support of his trainer and family, Ali aims to become a champion again, but he is also tempted to take advantage of what Kont offers. All the challenges he faces help him realize that there is no difference between life and the boxing ring—no matter how many punches he takes, he must get back up and keep fighting.

Ana : You Are in my DNA

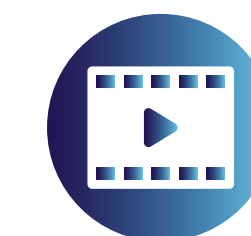

Ana : You Are in my DNA

Ana is a fiercely determined young woman raised in a foster home, where the only true family she's ever known is Mama Lena, the devoted social worker who took her in. Now in the final year of her master's degree in journalism, Ana juggles her studies with event hostess work to make ends meet. With her earnings, she takes a DNA test in hopes of uncovering her origins—and finds far more than she ever expected. Tracing the clues, Ana uncovers a dark secret: a baby trafficking ring that sold unwanted children for international adoption. She learns that she was meant to be one of them, but the operation was exposed by police before her adoption could happen. Driven by a hunger for truth and justice, Ana begins investigating the ring, determined to reveal those responsible. But her search takes a dangerous turn when she discovers a painful link between the case and the man she loves. Now, Ana must make an impossible choice: expose the truth and rise to journalistic fame, or protect her heart and risk burying a story that could change everything. Torn between love and justice, Ana's next move could cost her everything.

Adela

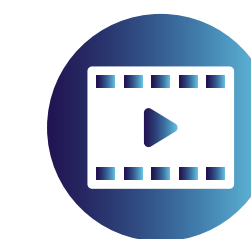

Adela

Adela and Andreea are two sisters, who were raised by their parents, Nuti and Mitu, in their poor home in a slum near Bucharest. One day, the secret identity of Adela is about to be revealed, when her biological grandfather decides to repair his past mistakes. However, before bringing Adela to her real father, the old man dies and Nuti and Mitu bury him in the garden, and the truth seems to be forever buried along with him. Presented with this new opportunity, Nuti and Mitu decide to send their own daughter Andreea in Adela's place, since the real father of Adela is the powerful media mogul, Paul Andronic. Nuti become increasingly obsessed with living in the mogul's mansion, and when she realizes she is not welcomed by the rich, snobbish family, she begrudgingly accepts to live in the annex house for the time being. Although Nuti and Andreea seem like strong allies and committed to take what is owed to Adela, they will face a lot of trials and tribulations in keeping the secret.

Raised by her devoted father, Samir, alongside her sisters after their mother's death, Fay grows up between the humble neighborhood and the opulent mansion. Alya, a figure of youth, beauty, and success, embodies everything Fay desires. Despite her simple life with her childhood sweetheart Ous and her university studies, Fay's fixation on Alya never wavers. When Alya returns to the mansion after her father's death, Fay seizes the chance to get closer, accepting a job as Alya's maid despite her family's objections. Fay's admiration soon spirals into a nightmare as she loses herself in her quest to mirror Alya. Her relationship with Jawad, a charismatic doctor tied to Alya's past, complicates matters, drawing jealousy from both Ous and Alya. Alya exploits Fay's talents, claims her work, and manipulates her into marrying Alya's troubled brother, Basil, to secure the family fortune. The marriage shatters Fay's world, and Basil's eventual suicide leaves her a guilt-ridden widow. As Fay sheds her naivety, she turns Alya's tactics against her, rising to claim the mansion and Alya's life piece by piece. But the cost is steep: she loses her family, her love, and her identity. In the end, Fay becomes the sole lady of the mansion—powerful, wealthy, and alone—having transformed into the very person she once admired. Yet, from the ashes of her journey, Fay emerges as a beacon of resilience, proving that even in the solitude of a dream fulfilled, there lies the strength to redefine one's own destiny.

Tycoon

Tajkun

At the center of the story stands Vladan Simonovic, a powerful Serbian tycoon, wealthy and influential, yet widely despised by the public for the fortune he amassed during the turbulent 1990s through questionable means. An attack on Vladan disrupts his seemingly untouchable world. An unknown assailant shoots at him, and more by reflex than conscious thought, his son Bojan jumps to shield him, taking a bullet instead. The assassin escapes, leaving behind confusion and fear. Determined to uncover who targeted him, Vladan initiates a private investigation, refusing to rely on official authorities. As the investigation unfolds, it opens a Pandora's box of buried secrets about Vladan's business dealings and private life. Every revelation brings deeper conflicts, threatening the stability of his mighty empire. The line between loyalty and betrayal becomes dangerously thin as Vladan struggles to stay one step ahead of enemies hiding in the shadows. He must navigate a labyrinth of old enemies, hidden motives, and personal vendettas. "Tycoon" is a tense and gripping story about power, corruption, and the dangerous cost of past sins. As Vladan's carefully constructed world starts to crumble, he faces the ultimate question: how to protect everything he has built when he cannot even trust those closest to him?

The murder of Tigar, known as the most powerful and influential mafia boss in this part of Europe, has sent shockwaves through the Serbian underworld, shaking it to its very core. His sudden and brutal death has created a massive power vacuum that many ambitious and ruthless figures are eager to fill. The old rules no longer apply. The game is back on, fiercer and deadlier than ever before. Alliances are quickly forming and dissolving, betrayals are lurking around every corner, and trust is a luxury that no one can afford anymore. Everyone, from the seasoned kingpins to the lowest street hustlers, wants their piece of the pie. And they are willing to stop at absolutely nothing, no matter how bloody or merciless to claim it. Amidst this brutal scramble for dominance, on the very fringes of this cutthroat world, two unlikely players are just beginning their journey: Shock and Pasha. These two provincial petty thieves, neither particularly successful nor well-respected, have always dreamed of a bigger life beyond their modest, dead-end criminal activities. Now, for the first time, they see an opportunity to rise. Their ascent, however, will not be easy. It will be riddled with danger, betrayal, and sacrifices they never anticipated. Yet the allure of power, wealth, and respect is too strong to resist. This is the beginning of their path, their struggle, and ultimately, their story.

The Well

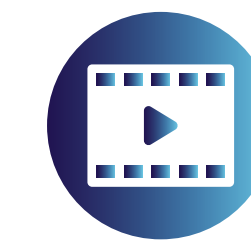

Bunar

The well is an existential story. The search for deeper meaning. Search for an answer the question why we exist in this world. The main protagonist, a philosophy professor Radomir Pavlović is in search of the meaning. He is at the peak of his powers in the beginning of the road. He is young enough, in his forties, by Selimović's standards, yet not old enough to understand what he will encounter in his path. He is into everything, and yet not up to anything. Alienated from everything, even from his native region Šumadija, where the story takes place, or at least this is what he thinks. „Those are the forties. This is a bad period, because you are still young to have desires, and yet old to fulfill them. 10 years less or more and everything would be fine“, said Meša Selimović, one of the greatest author of Yugoslav literature. Radomir is 45 and he's nowhere. We will see him in the beginning of our story as the most beautiful, most intelligent, most eloquent and successful professor, adored by media, the author of a popular book, but one event changes everything and everything falls apart over night. He goes to his birth house, his hometown in the center of Karađorđević's Serbia which is not the same as he remembers it. There are those returns that don't help us find ourselves, moreover they keep us a part. Sometimes we choose them, sometimes they surprise us or we don't have a choice and sometimes they take us on the road which we cannot perceive. We follow Radomir on his road where he will encounter others who are surprised, forgotten, some new unknown people and as it often happens, each of these encounter brings an inevitable change.

The Miracle

Mucize

Set in the 1960s, “Mucize” follows Mahir, a young and idealistic teacher assigned to a remote and impoverished village in Eastern Anatolia. Upon arriving, Mahir is confronted by the extreme poverty, isolation, and neglect the villagers endure daily. Despite overwhelming obstacles, he remains determined to make a positive difference by educating the village children. During his time there, he meets Aziz, a young man with a significant physical disability who has long been marginalized and dismissed by the villagers. Recognizing Aziz’s hidden potential, Mahir encourages him to learn and grow, planting seeds of hope where none existed before. With Mahir’s support and his own unwavering determination, Aziz slowly begins to transform, discovering strengths he never knew he possessed. Mahir and Aziz’s perseverance sparks a small but profound miracle within the village, leading the community to confront and reconsider their prejudices. “Mucize” is a heartfelt story about the transformative power of education, patience, and belief in human potential. Through steadfast effort and emotional courage, Mahir and Aziz achieve personal victories that inspire communal change, proving that hope and resilience can bloom even in the most forgotten corners of the world.

The Miracle-2

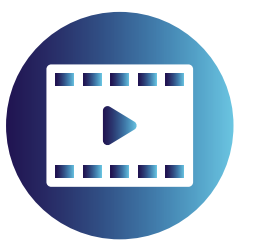

Mucize 2: Ask

Aziz, who struggles with severe speech and walking disabilities, attempts to rebuild his life despite the prejudices of his family and the villagers around him. His life takes a turn when he meets Mizgin, a young woman who brings light and hope into his dark and isolated world. Mizgin's family, heavily influenced by social pressures, traditions, and fears of judgment, strongly opposes their union. However, Mizgin sees beyond Aziz's physical limitations, believing in the purity of his love and the strength of his spirit. Their decision to marry despite overwhelming opposition becomes a powerful act of defiance and faith. After their marriage, Aziz and Mizgin work tirelessly to heal each other's emotional wounds, facing societal rejection and personal struggles together. Aziz commits himself to developing his abilities and earning the respect he has long been denied, while Mizgin stands by his side, offering unwavering support. Their journey is one of resilience, love, and personal growth. Through their courage and perseverance, they not only transform their own lives but also begin to change the hearts and minds of those who once judged them. "Mucize 2" is a moving portrayal of how love, belief, and determination can challenge deeply rooted prejudices and awaken the limitless potential hidden within the human spirit.

Meant to Be

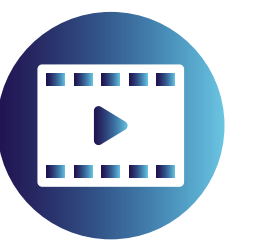

Prangalı Yarım

Bahri and Merve, who live in the same town, have been in love with each other since their childhood. These two young people who grew up together now want to marry. Their goal is to get married and settle in Istanbul to live the life they have longed for for years. However, there is a big obstacle to their marriage. Bahri and Merve's fathers had an argument for an insignificant reason and they did not speak to each other for 12 years. The town's elders, the mayor, even the district governor intervened to make peace between them, but no one could make peace between them. The newly appointed district governor of the town comes to the rescue of the young people who dream of the day their fathers will reconcile and get married. Bahri and Merve's father cannot stand the request of the district governor, who organizes a special visit for them, and finally agrees to make peace. Taking advantage of their reconciliation, the district governor asks Merve's father, Muzaffer, to accept their visit for his daughter. Muzaffer is willing for his daughter to marry, but there is one condition; In this process, if he sees even the slightest mistake on Bahri's side, he will cancel everything. Everyone is willing to vouch for Bahri, an honest and respectful young man. At this very moment, Bahri, who goes to warn Mahmut, who has his eye on Merve, accidentally causes the man to be hit by a truck. Will Bahri, who was sentenced by the court to wear an electronic shackle and not be able to go 100 meters away from his house for 3 months, be able to marry Merve without letting Muzaffer know what happened to him?

A Long Story

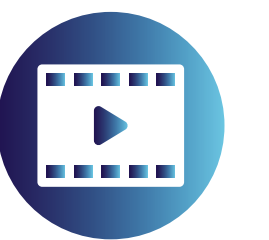

Uzun Hikaye

A LONG STORY is a screen adaptation of the timeless eponymous novel by Mustafa Kutlu and follows the story of Bulgarian Ali (Kenan İmirzalıoğlu), an immigrant who left Bulgaria with his grandfather and settled in Istanbul as a little boy in the 1940s. The film itself begins in the 1950s when Ali, now a young man, falls in love with Münire (Tuğçe Kazaz) who is the daughter of a neighbor. In the peripatetic life, he leads with Münire after eloping, Ali sets out to make a better place of every town they roll into. But his beaming, wide-eyed instinct for improving lives is matched by an irrepressible zeal for justice and equality; and the combination presents him with a new side of life at their every port of call. This LONG STORY of Ali, Münire and their son Mustafa drifting from one railway town to another through the 1960s and 1970s tells of an adventure that is by turns poignantly sad, rapturously upbeat and engagingly romantic...

I Saw The Sun

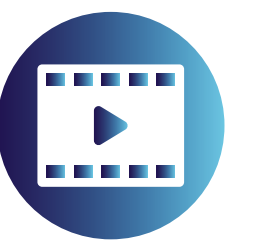

Güneşi Gordüm

“Güneşi Gordüm” follows the emotional and physical journey of a family living in a small Eastern Anatolian village, forced to migrate westward due to ongoing conflict and terrorism. Seeking safety and a better future, they embark on a grueling journey that becomes a profound test of resilience, endurance, and emotional strength. Along the way, they face separation, profound loss, and intense struggles with their identities. Each family member experiences the migration differently, shaped by their personal dreams, fears, and memories of the home they left behind. Although they eventually settle in different cities, the emotional scars of displacement linger, affecting their sense of belonging and shaping their future choices. The film poignantly explores the deep and lasting impact of forced migration on personal identity, familial bonds, and the universal search for stability and meaning. “Güneşi Gordüm” portrays not only the physical hardships of migration but also the internal battles individuals face when uprooted from everything familiar. Through moments of despair and resilience, the story reveals the enduring hope for a better life and the unbreakable strength of the human spirit. It is a touching narrative about loss, adaptation, and the painful but necessary pursuit of new beginnings when life leaves no other choice.

Pars: Operation Cherry

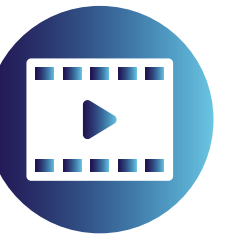

Pars: Kiraz Operasyonu

A specialized police task force launches a relentless battle against a powerful international drug trafficking network. At the helm is a determined leader, a man who has suffered personal loss due to the drug trade and now carries a deep emotional drive for justice. Fueled by pain and purpose, he pushes the team beyond their limits. As the investigation unfolds, the team uncovers a criminal web that stretches far beyond Turkey's borders, revealing the scale and reach of the operation they must dismantle. Each new lead brings them closer to the core of the organization, but also into increasingly dangerous territory. Internal betrayals, deadly ambushes, and high-level conspiracies put their lives at risk. The trust within the team is tested, and their mission becomes not just a tactical operation, but a moral fight against an ever-growing evil. The final phase of the mission requires them to risk everything for the greater good. "Pars: Kiraz Operasyonu" is a tense and gripping action thriller that explores how the pursuit of justice is often shaped by personal trauma. The story highlights the strength of the human spirit, the sacrifices made in the line of duty, and how resilience and determination can drive individuals to accomplish what seems impossible in the face of overwhelming danger.

The Hell of Boomerang

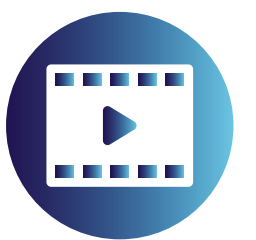

Bumerang Cehennemi

In the rugged and volatile lands of Southeastern Anatolia, a long-standing blood feud between two rival clans intensifies, evolving into a multi-generational war. What begins as a minor incident fueled by pride and honor soon escalates into a chain of retaliations that neither side can escape. As the conflict deepens, the lines between right and wrong blur, and entire families become consumed by vengeance. Innocent lives, including women and children, are caught in the ever-expanding crossfire. Amidst the violence and chaos, a forbidden love emerges between two young individuals—each from opposing clans. Their love, pure and sincere, offers a fragile hope for peace, yet it is crushed under the weight of tradition and family pressure. Their struggle mirrors the larger conflict, where forgiveness is feared, and hatred is inherited. “Bumerang Cehennemi” is a powerful reflection on the destructive cycle of revenge and how it poisons communities from within. The story examines how deeply rooted beliefs in honor can blind entire generations, leading to endless suffering. It underscores the desperate need for reconciliation, peace, and the courage to break free from inherited hatred. Ultimately, the film is a haunting reminder that without forgiveness, history will continue to repeat itself in blood.

Beyaz Melek

Ahmet, an elderly man diagnosed with a terminal illness, is moved into a nursing home by his caring but overwhelmed son and daughter, who believe he will receive better care there. Though initially reluctant, Ahmet soon begins to settle into his new environment. He forms unexpected and heartfelt connections with the other elderly residents, each with their own stories, regrets, and hopes. Within the walls of the home, Ahmet discovers not just companionship, but also friendship, love, and a renewed zest for life. Shared meals, conversations, and quiet moments blossom into bonds that give the residents a sense of dignity and joy they feared they had lost. As Ahmet's health continues to decline, his newfound relationships bring him peace and purpose. "Beyaz Melek" delicately explores themes of aging, loneliness, and the evolving nature of family bonds. It shows that the later stages of life can still hold profound meaning and beauty, despite physical decline. Through the experiences of Ahmet and his companions, the film reminds viewers that love and connection are timeless. The story celebrates life in its twilight years, portraying aging not as an end, but as a stage where warmth, hope, and humanity can still thrive.

Esra, a woman deeply haunted by traumatic memories from her childhood, has always felt a sense of disconnection from reality. She often finds herself retreating into a peaceful, otherworldly place within her dreams—a place that hints she must embark on a profound journey of self-discovery. Feeling increasingly dissatisfied and lost in her daily life, Esra decides to confront her fears and search for her true self. Her journey leads her from Berlin to Istanbul, where she faces the shadows of her past. Along the way, she encounters people and experiences that open new doors for her, providing unexpected guidance and support. Each step she takes helps her shed the weight of her unresolved pain and find clarity. Through this emotional and spiritual transformation, Esra gradually emerges as a stronger, more self-aware individual. “8 Saniye” portrays the painful yet liberating process of healing and reconciliation with one’s own history. It highlights the importance of confronting the past honestly before stepping into a fulfilled future. Esra’s journey is a testament to the power of inner strength, personal growth, and the courage required to change. Her story reminds us that true freedom and peace come from within and that facing our deepest fears is the only way forward.

Eve Donus: Sarikamis 1915

Set against the tragic backdrop of the Sarikamish Operation in 1915, “Eve Dönüş” portrays the devastating effects of war on ordinary people. Soldiers and villagers from different backgrounds, each carrying their own dreams and fears, are forced to come together in a desperate struggle for survival. Faced with brutal cold, relentless starvation, and the horrors of endless battles, their hopes of returning home become their sole motivation to endure. As the merciless winter claims more lives day by day, hope becomes a fragile thread. The narrative goes beyond traditional tales of heroism, offering a raw and unfiltered depiction of human endurance, vulnerability, and loss. Through the eyes of its characters, the story captures the grim reality of war, where both nature and the enemy become formidable threats. Despite overwhelming odds, the common human desire to survive and reunite with loved ones binds these individuals together. “Eve Dönüş: Sarıkamış 1915” powerfully conveys the futility and senselessness of war, highlighting the deep emotional and physical scars it leaves behind. The film is a poignant reminder of the resilience of the human spirit and the devastating cost of conflict, portraying not only the historical tragedy but also the universal longing for home, peace, and human connection amidst unimaginable hardship.

The Classy Bride

Sosyetik Gelin

Selin, the pampered only child of a wealthy family, finds her life upended when her father, Zeki, is duped by his rival, Kadir. Not only does Kadir seize control of Zeki's company, but he also pressures Selin into an unwanted marriage with his son, Murat. Having never worked a day in her life and still struggling to finish her university, Selin is determined to avoid this fate.

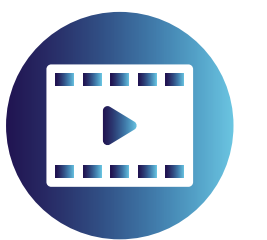

On the day of the wedding, as the ceremony unfolds, Selin cleverly knocks out Kadir's bodyguards and makes a daring escape, still dressed as a bride. To avoid drawing attention at the airport, she hops on a bus headed to the Aegean, where she shares her story with Asiye, a fellow traveler who is also being sent away against her will.

They concoct a plan for Selin to assume Asiye's identity, allowing Selin to hide with Asiye's relatives while Asiye pursues her own romantic plans. However, upon arriving, Selin unexpectedly confronts her new family: her disapproving future mother-in-law Hayriye, distant father-in-law Vefki, flirtatious brother-in-law Avni, and an unenthusiastic future husband, Demir, alongside a spiteful sister-in-law, Filiz. As she navigates this chaotic new life, Selin must confront family dynamics, societal expectations, and her own desires for independence and love.
